Singing Words Is for the Birds

Mixes #3 & 4

In a one-time-only gimmick, the songs have been arranged according to their lengths for this monumental installation of the instrumental mix series. Disc one (#3) contains only those songs less than four minutes long, and disc two (#4) has those ranging from four minutes to infinity. The executive panel of the mix series believes that the musical continuity of the tracks is only minimally compromised by separating the songs. Two different approaches to creating an instrumental song can also be distinguished by this method: taking a melody or idea and extending it only until the exhaustion of its intrigue, or the attempt to create an exemplary epic incorporating multiple sonic innovations. We make no value judgments as to which is more pleasing to the ear. However, we are far more qualified to offer up these instrumental selections, again intended for use as background music for reading without distraction, than you are. Trust us. With everything.
